III. Purposes of personal data processing

Your data will be processed in order to conduct the recruitment process within LOTOS Group, which includes the data co-controllers mentioned above, and in order to assess your professional qualifications.

IV. Legal basis for processing personal data

The legal basis for processing your data for the purposes indicated above is:

- a) fulfillment of legal obligations incumbent on the joint controller in accordance with Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR, including Article 22¹ of the Labour Code, with regard to the following data - name and last name, date of birth, contact details, education, professional qualifications, course of previous employment,
- b) the consent referred to in Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR, in the case of transfers of data other than those indicated above,
- c) the consent referred to in Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR, for the processing of personal data in recruitment processes conducted in the future.

V. Sharing personal data

Your personal data will be shared within the LOTOS S.A. Group Capital Group, which includes the data co-controllers listed above. Moreover, your data may be shared with the following categories of recipients:

- a) entities processing personal data on behalf of the joint controllers, e.g. entities providing e-recruitment system and entities operating IT systems used for the purposes mentioned above, providing maintenance and archiving services,
- b) entities providing services to the co-controllers, including legal advisors and auditors, whereby such entities process the data on the basis of a contract with the co-controllers and only in accordance with their instructions.

VI. Data retention period

The offers of candidates participating in a given recruitment, including the personal data of those candidates who:

- a) have consented to participate in future recruitment processes will be stored for a period of 12 months from the moment of entering them into the system via the application form or until the withdrawal of consent,
- b) not consented to participate in future recruitment processes will be stored no longer than until the conclusion of a contract of employment with the newly hired employee, and after that time they will be immediately deleted.

VII. Rights of data subjects

You are entitled to:

- a) the right to access the content of your data and to receive a copy of it,
- b) the right to rectify (amend) your data,
- c) the right to erasure and restriction of processing of personal data,
- d) the right to withdraw consent at any time without affecting the lawfulness of processing carried out on the basis of consent before its withdrawal. Withdrawal may be made by sending a statement to the address indicated above, iod@grupalotos.pl,
- e) the right to data portability, i.e. to receive your personal data from the co-controller in a structured, commonly used electronic format to the extent that they are processed. You may exercise this right if the processing is carried out by automated means, based on your consent. You may transfer this data to another data controller or request the controller to do so on your behalf, if technically possible.

To exercise the above rights, please contact the data co-controller or the personal data protection inspector. Contact information is indicated above.

Moreover, you have the right to lodge a complaint to the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection (to the address of the Office for Personal Data Protection, ul. Stawki 2, 00-193 Warsaw), in the case that the processing of personal data violates the applicable provisions on personal data protection.

VIII. Information on data requirements

Providing personal data in the scope resulting from Article 22¹ of the Labour Code is necessary to participate in the recruitment process. Providing other data is voluntary, lack of it has no influence on the possibility of taking part in the recruitment.

IX. Information about personal data profiling

The personal data you provide may be subject to profiling (by searching the database of candidates on the basis of a selected criterion, e.g. education, work experience, region), but it will not be used for automated decision-making.
